LOVIN' THE NIGHTLIFE

By Lakendra Lewis

When it comes to things to do in San Antonio, the choices are endless, and the nightlife is no exception. Whether you are looking to take in dinner and a show or maybe grab a cocktail beforehand in one of the many sleek hotels, the downtown scene on the River Walk is the perfect place to pick your nightlife. Here are a few suggestions paired around the theme of dinner and a show, with a few places known for great cocktails thrown in for good measure. Be sure to contact these establishments directly for details on specific business hours and prices.

DINNER & DRINKS

CROCKETT TAVERN

320 Bonham

Newly opened in the historic Crockett Hotel and just feet away from the perimeter walls of the legendary Alamo, the Crockett Tavern was designed to transport guests to the days when Texas was a battleground for independence. This includes mural-sized oil paintings of the Battles of San Jacinto and the Alamo, along with a collection of spectacular Western brass sculptures.

Come for a delicious lunch or dinner with dishes inspired by Texas country and camp fire cooking (you will not likely find beer battered cactus anywhere else) and stay for the full bar, drink specials and live entertainment on weekends.

THE MOON'S DAUGHTERS

115 Lexington Avenue

Located rooftop at the Thompson San Antonio-Riverwalk hotel and inspired by the Greek goddess of the moon, The Moon's Daughters lives up to its name offering a full celestial experience with the new

"Cosmic Night" series that will take place whenever a full moon lands each month. On August 11, guests will find a Cosmic Coaster under their cocktail inspired by the Sturgeon Moon.

The Cosmic Coaster adds a flair of entertainment where guests will have the chance to scan a QR code, receive a prompt to think of questions, followed by unique insights, and will conclude with a positive affirmation. There will also be live music and a telescope to see the moon glitter along.

FIUME PIZZERIA & WINE BAR

200 South Alamo Street

Fiume [fyoo-me] Pizzeria and Wine Bar, located on the San Antonio River, merges the authentic flavors of Italy with traditional Texas ingredients. The artisan, Texas-crafted pizza incorporates local flavors and features the Neapolitan-style in what they define as Texapoletana. The name Fiume—meaning river—spotlights the San Antonio River, the core of this dynamic, culturally diverse city. Their vision and menu are exemplary of an elevated dining experience revered for its deep local roots and hyperlocal culinary craftsmanship.

Elsewhere Garden Bar and Kitchen

ELSEWHERE GARDEN BAR & KITCHEN

103 East Jones Avenue

Once you have experienced this new restaurant with its wide variety of games, drinks, food, entertainment and beautiful scenery, you may not want to be anywhere other than Elsewhere Garden. Established in 2020, this hidden oasis has quickly become a new gem in the River Walk's crown, boasting trees, plants and porch swings that overlook the river. The menu includes an array of beers, margaritas, spiked coffees, seltzers, wines and fresh, locally sourced ingredients. Plus, pets of all kinds are welcome to join in on events that include playing Jenga, Connect Four, card games and live trivia.

BOUDRO'S ON THE RIVERWALK

421 East Commerce Street

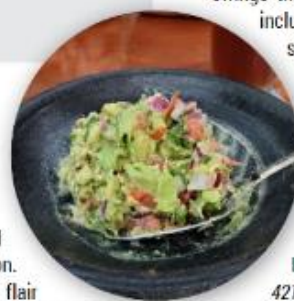

This popular Texas bistro has been a River Walk favorite since it opened its doors in 1986. Situated right along the banks of the river, diners can enjoy a glass of wine or a margarita and watch tableside as avocados, onions and cilantro are transformed into fresh guacamole before their eyes.

Between a menu that boasts a vast array of fine cuisine, including wood-grilled steaks, seafood, cocktails and the scenic riverside view, you cannot go wrong.

OCHO

1015 Navarro Street

Overlooking the River Walk and tucked inside a glass conservatory within the Hotel Havana, Ocho serves authentic Mexican cuisine from a menu rooted in the hotel's pan-Latin cultural influences from Mexico, Cuba and Texas. Be sure to also try the tequila, one of the signature drinks served in the hotel's Havana Bar.

DORREGO'S

150 East Houston Street

Pop into Dorrego's bar located inside the Hotel Valencia Riverwalk for a Poptail—a combination of an alcohol-filled popsicle and a cocktail. These cool, frosty drinks are back by popular demand for the summer featuring top-shelf alcohol-infused popsicles made with fresh fruit purée. Try the Prickly Pear Margarita Poptail—a fruity fuchsia popsicle dunked into a margarita, or the Valencia Dream Poptail—an orange-vanilla popsicle served in a glass of prosecco. Dorrego's also offers some delicious Argentinian-inspired food, the only menu of its kind in the city.

SUPPER

136 E Grayson Street

Located in the historic Hotel Emma at Pearl, this upscale farm-to-table American eatery is headed by Chef John Brand, who personally selects each dish based on inspired flavors and what is in season. In addition to boasting a large variety of vegetarian fare on the menu, diners will enjoy the elegance and ambiance of beautiful views of the river from the outdoor patio.

TRE TRATTORIA

200 West Jones Avenue

Inspired by Tuscan hillside and the region's family-style dining, this Italian eatery on the grounds of the San Antonio Museum of Art is ideal for a date night or family night. The menu features classic Italian dishes alongside modern cuisine that includes fresh antipasti selections, homemade pasta dishes and made-to-order cast iron pizzas. Enjoy the renovated interior of the Beretta Hops House, which not only offers a gorgeous view of the River Walk but also features accents of wine vines and stag leaf ferns crawling across its rustic brick walls.
